To Open Lagoon Bids June 3

Contractors have been invited to submit bids for an addition to the sewage disposal system at Appomattox Courthouse National Historical Park, the effect of which will mean replacing the present disposal system.

Grover E. Steele, park superintendent, announced he will open proposals for the construction in the park office at 3 p.m. on Wednesday, June 3.

Invitations to bid on the work have been mailed to contractors throughout the area, Steele said.

The new construction will include a sewage lagoon containing a minimum of 7,500 square feet of liquid surface area together with an overflow area of 1,000 square feet.

The lagoon will be created alongside Rt. 24, due south from the park's Visitors' Center.

"The new construction will replace our present disposal system here at the park," Steele explained. "We have outgrown it."

The present system consists of a leaching field, which the lagoon will replace. About 210 feet of six-inch cast iron sewer line will be installed in the new project, he said.

Brownie Troop Enjoys Outing

Seventeen girls and two leaders of Brownie Girl Scout Troop 351 and three parents drove to Miller Park in Lynchburg Saturday for the final outing of the year. The Brownies "explored" the park and enjoyed the playground facilities there. One of the highlights of the trip for the girls was the ride up or back in the back of Lloyd Hudson's truck as they serenaded the world with Beatle songs!

Mrs J. Lloyd Hudson and Mrs. H. D. Folks are leaders of the troop. Mrs. Virginia Mann and Mrs. Thomas Stanley accompanied the troop to Lynchburg and supervised the girls at play. Mr. H. D. Folks presided at the hamburger grill to flip out hamburgers which one little Brownie pronounced as the most delicious!

Girls in troop 351 are: Brenda Bryant, Pamela Chenault, Dale Dunn, Ellen Doss, Melanie Folks, Constance Guill, Janet Hall, Shirley Harvey, Kay Honeycutt, Patricia Hudson, Myrna Mann, Denise Ohlsen, Hope Paulette, Debra Rowe, Kitty Simpson, Donna Stanley and Carol Wood.
